

WOMEN'S AND NEWBORN CARE

Gold Coast University Hospital

women's and newborn care

Women and family focused care including antenatal services, birth suite, midwifery group practice, maternity inpatient unit, newborn care and home visiting service.

Learning Opportunities

- Care of women and their families across antenatal services, birth suite, maternity inpatient unit and newborn care unit
- Progression through clinical areas to support life long learning
- Multidisciplinary collaboration and clinical support
- Participation in research and audit activities
- Clinical leadership and mentor opportunities
- Web based learning activities
- Inservice training sessions

Professional Opportunities

- Transition to practice - nurse and midwife positions
- Grade 5 to Grade 6 professional development
- Practice development through professional development leave
- Succession planning for career development

Educational Resources

- Nurse and midwifery educators
- Clinical facilitation and preceptorship
- Orientation program
- Graduate support program
- 12 month transition to practice program
- Clinical nurse and midwives clinical skills sessions
- Neonatal resuscitation training

Connect with us

www.goldcoast.health.qld.gov.au

